They need to discuss this with their doctor and do their own research. A cancer diagnosis can lead to a depression this is normal. The issue is for someone already fighting depressive mind states getting a cancer diagnosis can put them into a severe depressive state. This state of mind can be dangerous. Since when depressed we often lack the emotions we need to remind ourselves to be healthy. When you feel depressed you often forget to take care of yourself. Since yoga focuses on bringing you into your mental center as well as spiritual. It helps a depressed person get their mind out of the repetitive loop. Yoga also helps to lessen the physical muscle pain by stretching your muscles. As you gain your skill level your muscles will gain flexibility, strength and balance. We all need balance in our lives. Yoga will achieve physical, mental and spiritual balance. I also talked about what you need to do to prepare yourself before you start yoga so you are ready. This will lessen your injury risk, please be sure you stretch before you start your yoga routine. I also included the meditation yoga poses. These poses are used to center your breathing and relieve your stress. Even on the days you do not feel like doing your other yoga poses you can do the meditation breathing poses. If you feel like yoga is a good fit feel free to branch out from the beginning poses. Just be sure you do not try the intermediate, advance, or guru poses until you have fully mastered the beginning poses. Starting those poses before you are fully ready will increase your injury risk.
